INTERIM MANAGEMENT REPORT OF FUND PERFORMANCE | For the Period Ended September 30, 2022

Management Discussion of Fund Performance

November 11, 2022

This Management Discussion of Fund Performance presents the portfolio management team's view on the significant factors and developments that have affected the ETF's performance and outlook in the six months ended September 30, 2022 (the "period"). If the ETF was established during the period, "period" represents the period since inception.

In this report, "Mackenzie" and "the Manager" refer to Mackenzie Financial Corporation, the manager of the ETF. In addition, net asset value ("NAV") refers to the value of the ETF as calculated for subscription and redemption purposes, on which the discussion of ETF performance is based.

Please read A Note on Forward-Looking Statements on the first page of this document.

Results of Operations

Investment Performance

During the period, the ETF returned -7.5% (after deducting fees and expenses). This compares with the Solactive Green Bond USD CAD DM Hedged Index return of -7.6%. All index returns are calculated on a total return basis in Canadian dollar terms. Investors cannot invest in an index without incurring fees, expenses and commissions, which are not reflected in the index returns.

Mounting concerns about inflation, continued supply chain issues and higher input costs prompted many global central banks to increase their policy rates aggressively over the period. Both the U.S. Federal Reserve and the Bank of Canada increased their policy rates by 275 basis points, ending the period at 3.25% and indicating that more increases should be expected. This unprecedented pace of policy action led to heightened volatility and uncertainty in fixed income markets. Bond yields continued to rise, most significantly among shorter-term bonds, while a yield curve inversion (when short-term yields are higher than long-term yields) reflected concerns about economic growth.

Through the period, the ETF used a sampling methodology to invest in broadly diversified securities that collectively approximate the full index in terms of key characteristics. Alternatively, the ETF may invest its assets directly in the bonds that make up the index, holding each bond in approximately the same proportion as its weighting in the index. The ETF uses derivative instruments to hedge its foreign currency exposure back to the Canadian dollar.

The difference in performance between the ETF and the index resulted primarily from the sampling methodology of the ETF, and from variations in the timing of currency conversions. These factors were partially offset by management fees and other operating expenses.

Over the period, changes were made to the ETF's holdings to reflect changes in the composition of the index.

Environmental, Social and Governance ("ESG") Impact

Green, social and sustainable bonds included in the index must satisfy a set of guidelines from the International Capital Market Association and are verified by the Climate Bond Initiative. The issuer must clearly indicate the intended use of the bond's proceeds. Green bonds finance projects or activities that promote climate or other environmental sustainability purposes ("Green Projects"), such as renewable energy, pollution prevention and control, and climate change adaptation. Social bonds finance projects that address a social issue ("Social Projects"), often aimed at target populations such as those living below the poverty line and marginalized communities. Examples include food security and sustainable food systems, socioeconomic advancement and affordable housing. Sustainable bonds are issues whose proceeds are used to finance or refinance a combination of Green Projects and Social Projects. All designated eligible Green Projects and Social Projects should provide clear benefits, which will be assessed by the index provider and, where feasible, quantified by the issuer.

The index is rebalanced annually and consisted of 230 securities at period-end. The green, social and sustainable bond market continues to experience rapid growth in new bond issuance and assets invested in such securities. The ETF's investment strategy is to invest primarily in such bonds, thereby directly funding green, social and sustainable projects.

Net Assets

The ETF's net assets decreased by 7.5% during the period to $177.7 million. This change was composed primarily of $14.5 million in net losses (including any interest and/or dividend income) from investment performance, after deducting fees and expenses, and an increase of $0.2 million due to net unitholder activity (including sales, redemptions and cash distributions).

Recent Developments

Because the ETF is an index fund, neither market expectations nor recent developments affect the composition of the portfolio.

Related Party Transactions

Management Fees

The annualized management expense ratio ("MER") for the ETF during the period ended September 30, 2022, was similar to the annualized MER for the period ended March 31, 2022. Total expenses paid vary from period to period mainly as a result of changes in average assets in the ETF. The MERs are presented in the Financial Highlights section of this report. The ETF paid management fees to the Manager at the annual rate of 0.25%.

The management fee for the ETF is calculated and accrued daily as a percentage of its NAV. The ETF's management fees were used by the Manager to pay for the costs of managing the investment portfolio of the ETF, including providing investment analysis and recommendations, making investment decisions, making brokerage arrangements for the purchase and sale of the investment portfolio, providing other services and licensing the index, and to pay for all costs and expenses (other than certain specified fund costs as more fully described in the Prospectus) required to operate the ETF.

Other Related Party Transactions

The ETF did not rely on an approval, positive recommendation or standing instruction from the Mackenzie Funds' Independent Review Committee with respect to any related party transactions in the period.

(1) This information is provided as at the end of the fiscal period shown.

(2) Management expense ratio ("MER") is based on total expenses, excluding commissions and other portfolio transaction costs, income taxes and withholding taxes, for the stated period and is expressed as an annualized percentage of daily average net assets during the period, except as noted. If the ETF was established in the period, the MER is annualized from the date of inception to the end of the period. Where the ETF directly invests in securities of another fund (including other ETFs), the MER presented for the ETF includes the portion of MERs of the other fund(s) attributable to this investment. Any income distributions received from ETFs managed by the Manager, with the intention of offsetting fees paid within those ETFs but which are not considered to be duplicative fees under regulatory requirements, are treated as waived expenses for MER purposes. The Manager may waive or absorb operating expenses at its discretion and stop waiving or absorbing such expenses at any time without notice.

(3) The trading expense ratio ("TER") represents total commissions and other portfolio transaction costs expressed as an annualized percentage of daily average net assets during the period. Where the ETF invests in securities of another fund (including other ETFs), the TER presented for the ETF includes the portion of TERs of the other fund(s) attributable to this investment. The Manager may reimburse the ETF for certain brokerage commissions and other transaction costs (including those payable to the custodian or its agents). The Manager may make these reimbursements at its discretion and stop these reimbursements at any time without notice.

(4) The ETF's portfolio turnover rate indicates how actively the ETF's portfolio advisor manages its portfolio investments. A portfolio turnover rate of 100% is equivalent to the ETF buying and selling all of the securities in its portfolio once in the course of the period. The higher the ETF's portfolio turnover rate in a period, the greater the trading costs payable by the ETF in the period, and the greater the chance of an investor receiving taxable capital gains in the year. There is not necessarily a relationship between a high turnover rate and the performance of the ETF. The portfolio turnover rate is not provided when the ETF is less than one year old.

(5) Closing market price, or the midpoint of the bid and ask prices in the absence of a closing market price, on the last trading day of the period as reported on the Aequitas NEO Exchange Inc.
